

UX Testing + UI Iteration

		User Interface: How could the styling of elements be changed to make a more visually appealing, clear, and space efficient layout?  (ex: sizes, colors, fonts, alignment, etc.)	User Experience: What elements of the user experience could be improved to make the page more intuitive and more fun/satisfying?  (ex: sounds, hover effects, press effects, etc.)
User 1 Name: Romeo Pearson	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Romeo says that there are no images for some parts. He says that it would be better if they worked.</li><li>He also says that the text at the top is pretty small and that the budget textbox is pretty small so it should be better.</li><li>Romeo wants to see a completed computer and a snippet of the game preview.</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>He says that it feels very interactive.</li><li>When the part sounds like it's being installed, he says that the audio of the buttons should be turned down so you can hear the parts being installed.</li><li>He also wants the games on the results page to be clickable.</li></ul>
User 2 Name: Nathaniel Castillo	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Nate wants some better graphics so that it doesn't look so bland because of the white background.</li><li>Make the text have some color and be less bland.</li><li>The website right now looks a bit bland so consider adding more elements.</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Nate wants more information on the results page for the computer.</li><li>He also says that there should be an animation on the total price when you buy something.</li><li>Make it so the budget has a minimum so that people don't fall short on money when buying.</li></ul>
User 3 Name: Julien Villery	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Julien saw that some images are missing and should be added.</li><li>He wants the total price to be moved over a bit so you can see the price of the build.</li><li>The bottom text should be moved up a bit.</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>When you hover the image, the image should pop out on the results page.</li></ul>
User 4 Name: Desmond Sparks	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Some of the images didn't work like for some of the parts.</li><li>The bottom part of the results text should be a bit higher since it's a bit close to the bottom.</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Desmond didn't really know that he needed to put in a budget before he started.</li></ul>

User 5 Name:

Anthony Trejo

- He likes that everything is well sized but said that the pictures need to be worked on.
- He said that the background on the parts should be removed.
- Make the website less bland by adding more color into it.
- The budget should be more clear and there should be like a minimum so people don't run out of money midway through.

UI Before Feedback (Screenshot / GIF)

What trends did you identify in your feedback?

- People noticed that there were no images for some parts
- The website should look less bland and more appealing.
- The sound of the buttons should be lowered when the audio of installation is playing.
- The game images should pop out on the results when hovered over.
- Add a minimum budget so people can't fall short on money.
- Results text on the bottom was incorrectly spaced with the bottom.

UI After Feedback (Screenshot / GIF)

What changes did you make to improve your UI?

- Fixed image issues and added more parts
- Added additional sounds and images should detract from the blandness of the website.
- Lowered sounds of UI interaction when install sound is playing
- Game images now have a drop shadow and have a cool hover and click animation
- Added a minimum budget
- Fixed results text positioning on the bottom of the results page.
